Prevent Cancer (formerly The Cancer Research and Prevention Foundation) is a national, non-profit health foundation whose mission is the prevention and early detection of cancer through scientific research and education. Prevent Cancer focuses its energies and resources on those cancers--including lung, breast, prostate, colorectal, cervical, skin, and testicular--that can be prevented through lifestyle changes or detection and treatment in their early stages.

Call or visit the website for information about workshops, conferences, seminars and other community events available throughout the year.

You can also Sign Up for the Prevent Cancer Foundation's e-newsletter and learn about ways to reduce your risk for cancer. Enjoy healthy eating and exercise tips, Foundation news and events, research profiles, personal stories and more.
